

Nominations invited for Gallaudet president

The Board of Trustees of Gallaudet College invites nominations and applications for the position of President, the appointment to be effective on Oct. 1, 1983; however, it is desirable for the President-elect to be available for orientation two to three months prior to this date.

Gallaudet College, the national college for deaf persons, is a private, liberal arts college incorporated in 1864 by an act of Congress. The College responds to several federal laws which authorize and support its programs and services; however, it is not a federal agency and the Board of Trustees is solely responsible for the institution.

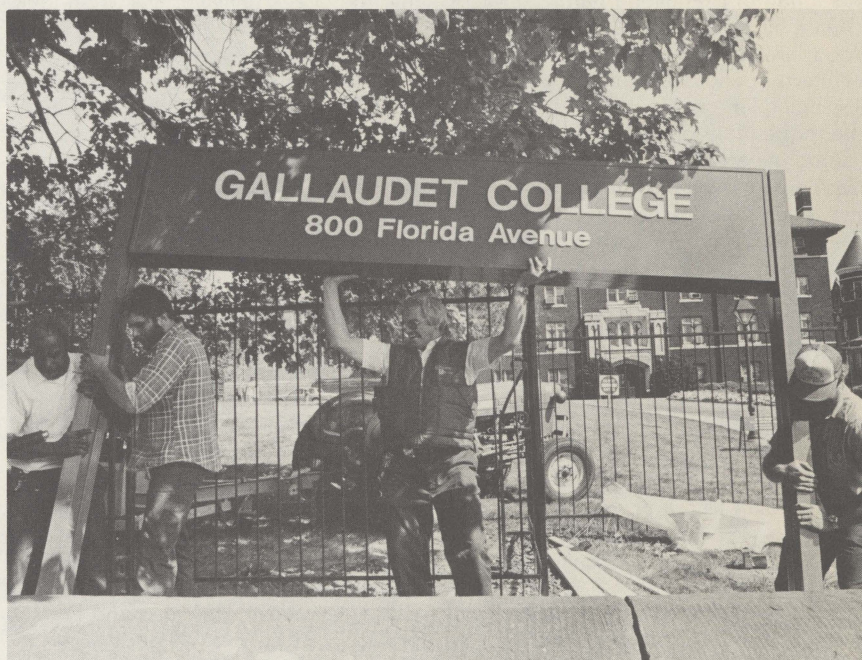

The College has four program divisions: The Division of Academic Affairs, which includes the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Communication, School of Education and Human Services, and the Graduate School; the Division of Pre-College Programs (the Model Secondary School for the Deaf, the Kendall Demonstration Elementary School); the Division of Research; and the Division of Public Services.

Candidates for the position should preferably have an earned doctorate and should present evidence of broad and successful administrative leadership in education and proven management effectiveness; a commitment to serving individuals with disabilities, in particular, hearing impairments; knowledge of the educational process at all levels; demonstrated skill to obtain, manage, and allocate financial resources; the ability to work effectively with the campus community, the Congress and national and international constituencies; and the experience and personal qualities necessary for the continued development of an institution with a specialized and critically important mission. Proficiency in or the willingness to learn sign language required.

The review of resumes will begin on December 15, 1982. Nominations or applications should be addressed to:

Mr. Alexander E. Patterson, Jr., Chairman
Presidential Search Committee
GALLAUDET COLLEGE
P.O. Box 2366
800 Florida Avenue, Northeast
Washington, D.C. 20002

Gallaudet College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

New street sign

Gallaudet's new street sign at the 8th Street entrance was recently installed. Other signs, using the same design, are going up around campus for building and street names.

Musign to perform at Gallaudet during Homecoming weekend

Musign Theatre Company, a group established by professional deaf performers, will be coming to Gallaudet during Homecoming weekend. They will perform Oct. 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the Elstad Auditorium.

The California-based company will present entertainment in sign, mime and dance, interpreting rock and popular music from the 50s to new wave. The performance is sponsored by the Gallaudet College Theatre Arts Department.

Musign was created by Rita Corey, Bob Hiltermann and Ed Chevy, all former Gallaudet students. Corey toured for three years with the National Theatre of the Deaf and Hiltermann has toured with the Canadian Theatre of the Deaf and as a solo act. Chevy was active in entertainment for the deaf and established a successful visual rock band. Other members of the troupe are Marjorie Tansar and Joe Dannis. Corey and Hiltermann performed at Gallaudet most recently during the Gallaudet College Alumni Association Reunion in June.

Musign is currently the only professional dance company comprised entirely of deaf performers interpreting popular music into American Sign Language. Although one of the group's primary goals is to bring musical entertainment to deaf people, Musign has also received enthusiastic responses from hearing audiences. To create material for their shows, group members first listen to and analyze songs and then try to capture the full meaning of the music and lyrics through creative imagery in sign and movement.

Tickets for the Oct. 15 and 16 performances are available now at the Theatre Arts Box Office. They are $4 for students (including Gallaudet students) and $6 for others. Box office hours are Oct. 4-8 and Oct. 11-14 from 2-5 p.m. and Oct. 15 and 16 from 2-8 p.m. For more information, call x5605 voice or x5608 TDD.

Bison lose season opener

by Mike Kaika

The Gallaudet football team lost its opening game of the season Sept. 25 to Catholic University (3-0) 24-11. An estimated 1,500 fans attended the game at Hotchkiss Field under beautiful football weather.

The game was closer than the score indicates and the Bison had a chance to take the lead late in the fourth quarter.

Catholic got things moving in the second quarter with a TD pass but the PAT failed. The Bison came right back and scored when quarterback Billy Lange, on a keeper, rushed over from the three yard line. Running back Mike Chappell rushed over for the PAT. A few minutes before halftime, the Cardinals marched deep into Bison territory

Bob Hiltermann and Rita Corey are two Musign performers who will be at Gallaudet Oct. 15 and 16.

Library Bits & Pieces

Brentwood

by Corrine Hilton

Situated north of Florida Avenue, east of Fourth Street and bordering Kendall Green was an area of land known as the Patterson Tract. Once known as Brentwood Farm, it consisted of 100 acres of prime land and primeval forests. Kendall Green, purchased by Amos Kendall, at one time was a part of Brentwood Farm.

On a hill in this utopia stood Brentwood, grandiose with its Grecian-style architecture and beautiful landscaping. A winding lane led from Florida Avenue to the Mansion. The hill on which it stood gave a breathtaking view of Washington. Well known for its banquets, balls, and parties, Brentwood was a social mecca for Washington's elite society.

Designed in 1817 by Benjamin H. Latrobe, architect of the U.S. Capitol, this U-shaped house contained a striking great central hall, which was a two-story rotunda rising in the center of the Mansion and connecting to the lantern on top of the second floor roof. The front of the Mansion featured a two-story pavilion with a pedimented ionic portico and on either side, and one-story wings bordered with balustrades around the roof.

Brentwood was built for Joseph Pearson, congressman from North Carolina, 1809-1815. He married Elenor Brent, the daughter of Robert Brent, Washington's first mayor. Brentwood was given to the couple by Robert Brent as a wedding gift. Elizabeth, the only child of Joseph and Eleanor Brent Pearson, married Carlisle P. Patterson. The property was later known as Patterson House.

The estate was abandoned by the Patterson family in the late 19th century. Vandals in 1915 forced their way into the Greek revival mausoleum looking for objects of value. Dragging the department from their caskets, they left their remains strewn on the floor. A fire in 1917 destroyed much of the interior. Twenty acres of the land was used for the Ivy City railroad and the remainder for Camp Meigs in 1917, which was a military training camp for World War I. The remaining walls of the Mansion and Camp Meigs was razed in 1919.

From about 1901 to 1929, interested citizens, organizations and the National Capital Park and Planning Commission tried unsuccessfully to secure the Patterson Tract for a park. Because of lack of funds and disagreements on price, the 100 acre park never materialized.

Some of the Tract subsequently became commercial establishments and the Farmer's Market of which Gallaudet College purchased two acres in 1976. In February, 1981, Gallaudet also purchased the Plaza Chevrolet and Eaton property, which were all at one time a part of the Patterson Tract.

Special smoke alarms available

In response to a Maryland law that requires special protection for hearing impaired people in the event of fire, a portable electric smoke detector has been designed exclusively for use by the hearing impaired.

At the requests of the State Fire Marshal's Office, Tel-Alert Systems, Inc. has designed Vibra-Lite Alert. The device is designed for home use as well as when traveling since most states do not require specialized detectors for the protection of the hearing impaired. The state of Maryland, however, requires that hotels and motels have at least one smoke detectors available, and also requires landlords to provide, upon request, special smoke detectors for the hearing impaired.

Vibra-Lite Alert is equipped with a 500,000 candlepower equivalent strobe light and has been tested to awaken sleeping deaf people immediately. It is portable and plugs into regular 110 volt receptacles.

Tel-Alert Systems, Inc. has been asked to provide information on smoke detectors to Gallaudet's National Information Center on Deafness. Representatives from the company also participated in MSSD's New Student/Parent Orientation program recently.

For further information about the smoke alarm system, call Tel-Alert Systems at (301) 953-3246 TDD or 953-3540 voice. The address is 14610 Old Gunpowder Road, Laurel, MD 20707.

Welby Smith, an instructor from Development Communications Associates, Inc., teaches scriptwriting to Gallaudet faculty and staff at a workshop on "Strategies for Successful Scripting" held Sept. 22-24. The workshop was held in the TV Center and was sponsored by Gallaudet College Television, a unit of College Educational Resources.

Jewish Social Service Agency provides help for hearing impaired

Mental health counseling and social service help for hearing impaired persons of any race, religion or age are now part of the program of the Jewish Social Service Agency located in Rockville, MD.

Hearing impaired persons can come to JSSA for guidance in areas such as family and marriage counseling, individual counseling, services to the aging, foster care, unemployment, sexual abuse or alcohol abuse.

Department of Counseling receives RSA award

The Rehabilitation Services administration within the Department of Education has awarded a $33,272 grant to Gallaudet's Department of Counseling. Proposed and directed by Marita Danek, the 36-month project involves long-term training in rehabilitation counseling with a specialization in deafness.

The funds provide a year's tuition and fees for traineeships in rehabilitation counseling, along with stipend support for nine months. Danek will serve as director for the projects and will be working closely with Richard Phillips, the department chairperson, and others.

Conference scheduled for Deafpride

"Advocacy: Working for Change" is the theme of the 10th anniversary celebration conference of Deafpride, Inc. to be held Oct. 8-9 at the International Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Deafpride President Barbara Kannapell, a CER linguistics specialist at Gallaudet, has organized the event and will also be the co-presenter for sessions on "Deaf and Hearing People: The Challenge for Working Together" and "My Language is Me."

In addition, Sy DuBow, director of the National Center for Law and the Deaf at Gallaudet, will present a workshop on "Advocacy and the Law" where the implications of the Rowley decision will be discussed as well as what's happening with P.L. 94-142 and Section 504. Ed Corbett, director of the National Academy, will be the keynote speaker Oct. 9 along with Audrey Rowe, D.C. Commissioner of Social Services. Art Roehrig, director of the Hearing-Vision Impaired Program here, will present a workshop on "Identity and Change," and Mary Jane Sweeney of the National Center for Law and the Deaf will present a workshop on "Connections: Minority Groups and Change." Gil Eastman of the Theatre Arts Department will join with others to provide entertainment Oct. 8.

For further information, contact Deafpride, 635-2050 voice or TDD.

Dining area opens

Four of the people who contributed the most to the renovation of the "Ole Jim" as the new Alumni House enjoy lunch during the opening of the upstairs dining area Sept. 22. They are (from left) Alan and Florence Crammatte, national co-chairpersons of the Alumni House campaign, and David and Pauline Peikoff, honorary co-chairpersons. Lunch is now being served weekdays from 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

Among Ourselves

A number of people with the Pre-College Outreach area presented workshops during August and September.

Margaret Hallau, instructional developer, presented a Reading Curriculum workshop to members of the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind in Staunton. Emphasis was on an in-depth analysis of the comprehension objectives of their curriculum.

Glenda Ennis, Dale Ford and Cindy Puthoff presented a Reality Therapy Workshop to the entire staff of the Ohio School for the Deaf in Columbus, OH. R.T. will be a focus of the school program this year and continuing support from the Outreach unit to the staff will be provided.

Nancy Fones, MSSD assistant principal and Julia Stovall with Outreach, presented a curriculum revision workshop at the West Virginia School for the Deaf in Romney. Teams of staff worked on philosophy, components of curriculum and technical assistance needs for follow-up.

Lynne Gelzer, KDES and Jim Vincent, MSSD participated in a training workshop at NTID to develop a Career Education for Parents Workshop. The workshop will be made available through Outreach as early as October 30.

Kay Pelletier, MSSD educational planning specialist and Glenda Ennis, Outreach, met with a representative group from the West Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind in Romney to begin development of a dormitory I.E.P. The project will continue with the assistance of Outreach throughout the school year.

Max Fitz-Gerald, instructor at MSSD, presented three workshops in the area of Sex Education as part of a year long contract through Outreach. One presentation was at the Sterck School in Delaware. In conjunction with the Outreach/Kellogg project, Max worked with the staff at the New York School for the Deaf in Rome, NY and Johnson County Community College in Kansas.

Jo Israelson, Outreach, presented two Career Education workshops. The first occurred at the Alaska State Program for the Deaf in Anchorage for the combined teacher, aide and interpreter staff. A group of Gallaudet Counseling majors attended the second mini workshop held at Gallaudet.

Jo Israelson, Outreach and Ingrid Willenz-Isaacs, KDES counselor, presented the Socio-Emotional Learning Formats Workshop at the New Mexico School for the Deaf in Santa Fe. This workshop was the first held at the school for a combined dorm and instructional staff in hope of encouraging cooperative efforts among the entire staff.

Mark Goldfarb, assistant to the vice president, Pre College Programs, presented a workshop and provided technical assistance to the Sterck School for the Deaf in Delaware as part of an ongoing assistance project through Outreach.

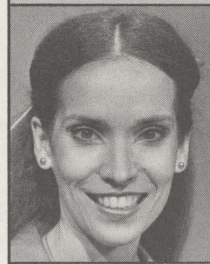

Kerry Corcoran, KDES instructor; Carolyn Williamson, MSSD staff development specialist; Glenda Ennis, Outreach; and Fern Reisinger, MSSD dorm counselor, presented a dorm workshop to members of the staff at the Virginia School for the Deaf in Hampton. As part of a continuing assistance project from Outreach, this workshop focused on working with the multiply handicapped.

Richard Lytle, assistant to the dean for planning at MSSD; Jim Vincent, MSSD counselor; and Kathy Stoeher, MSSD dorm counselor, presented a workshop on Dormitory Programming, Behavior Management, and Reality Therapy at the Scranton School for the Deaf in Scranton, PA.

Jackie Maeder and Linda Boyer, instructional designers, presented a workshop on Curriculum Design and Development at the New York School for the Deaf in White Plains as part of the Northeast Regional Curriculum Workshop. Curriculum specialists, teachers and administrators attended this combined Outreach/Kellogg meeting.

Football

and with only seconds left on the clock, they settled for a field goal and a 9-8 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Bison defense recovered a fumble on a quarterback sack. The offense got as close as the four yard line before settling on a field goal by Kiko Doe. Catholic quickly regained the lead on a TD pass and made good the two point conversion for a 17-11 lead.

Late in the fourth quarter, Gallaudet marched into the Cardinals end of the field with a well executed surprise play. Gallaudet was in punting formation but the ball was centered to Doe who ran around left end to the Catholic 30 yard line. This put Gallaudet in potential scoring position but the Bison couldn't keep the drive going and lost the ball on downs. Catholic then added an insurance TD and the PAT kick was good for a 24-11 victory.

Ron Dreher is chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Athletics.

Volleyball team has new coach

The women's volleyball team, under new head coach Ann Senstad, started the season with a four way match against Western Maryland, Longwood, Mary Washington and Chanan. Although the Bisonettes led at some points, they lost all four matches.

Senstad replaces Peg Worthington who retired from coaching at the end of last season. Senstad, who received her BS in Physical Education from Bowie State in 1979, is a teacher at Congressional High School in Falls Church, and was the head volleyball coach there for two years. Her volleyball teams at Congressional compiled a 16-8 won-lost record.

Other sports results

The soccer team lost to Chesapeake Community College last week by a score of 2 to 1. The Bison booters out-shot their opponents 45 to 17 but could only put one ball into the net. The overall record as of Sept. 27 is 2-2.

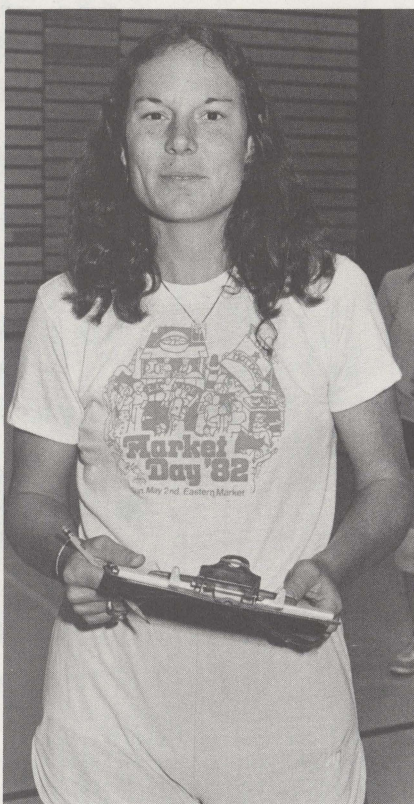

The field hockey team notched its first victory of the season against Essex Community College by a margin of 2 to 1. The field hockey team, after tying the season's opener against Anne Arundel, lost their next two matches to UMBC and Georgetown by identical scores of 3-0 before breaking into the win column. Record as of Sept. 27 is 1-2-1.

Volleyball planned

The Intramurals program is beginning a lunchtime volleyball game for faculty and staff on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The games will begin on Thursday, Oct. 7.

If you'd like to participate, return this entry form as soon as possible to the Intramural Office in Hughes Gym, P.O. Box 1387.

MSSD sports

The Model football team suffered its worst loss of the young season Sept. 25 to Pallotti 32-16 in a game played at Hotchkiss Field immediately following the Gallaudet vs. Catholic game.

The Eagles (1-2) never had a chance as Pallotti racked up a 32 point lead before Model crossed the goal line in the fourth quarter. Sean Markel and Robert Wilkins scored the Model TDs and Markel made two PAT conversions. The last time the Eagles lost more than two games was during the 1978 season.

In other MSSD sports, the women's volleyball team lost its opening match to Poolesville 15-9 and 15-11 but rebounded and defeated Ballou 15-6, 15-9 in a triangular match last week.

The soccer team is looking for its first victory of the season after losing to St. Anslems 2-1 and to Bullis 5-4. Model lost the Bullis game on a penalty kick late in the game.

Metroports/NCI expands sports captioning

Metroports and the National Captioning Institute have entered into a contract to provide closed captions for major basketball and football using an expanded captioning format recently developed by NCI.

Metroports is the country's largest independent sports syndicator for television, cable and radio and the first such syndicator to offer closed captioned programming.

Under the contract, NCI will caption 12 major sporting events. The first basketball game ever to be captioned will be the Hall of Fame game Nov. 20 between the University of North Carolina and St. John's in Springfield, MA, home of the Basketball Hall of Fame. Other captioned events include UCLS vs. DePaul on Dec 2, UCLA vs. Notre Dame Dec. 4, Marquette vs. Iowa Dec. 8, DePaul vs. Purdue Dec. 22, UCLA vs. Maryland Dec. 23, Aloha Bowl Dec. 25 and the Liberty Bowl Dec. 29.
